TANZANIA: Lissu cleared of treason, convicted of incitement

A three-judge High Court panel in Dar es Salaam acquitted Chadema chairman Tundu Lissu of treason, which can carry the death penalty, and convicted him of incitement. [1] [2] [3] The court found the prosecution "failed to prove the second element of the treason charge." [4] No sentence had been reported by about 0945Z, and he can appeal. [2] Police patrolled outside the court. [1] Amnesty accused the government of "weaponising counterterrorism laws." [2]

Assessment: Dropping the capital charge eases pressure for immediate unrest, but the pending sentence keeps Lissu exposed and could still prompt Chadema mobilisation.

SOUTH AFRICA: ANC 31.7%, DA 25.1% with two-thirds counted; turnout about 54%

With 67.5% counted, BusinessTech has the ANC at 31.7%, the DA at 25.1%, MK at 8.5% and the EFF at 6.1%; the DA leads six metros including Johannesburg and Tshwane, and MK leads eThekwini on an early count. [5] The IEC gives preliminary turnout of about 15.9 million of 29.2 million registered, up from 45.87% in 2021; Thursday's 14.5 million did not include special votes. [6] [7] The DA has ruled out MK in eThekwini, and the final declaration is expected Sunday evening. [6]

Assessment: Gauteng metro control will likely turn on a DA-ActionSA deal that both parties are holding back on.

SOMALIA: Supreme Court voids the chief justice's dismissal and rules the term extension unlawful

The Supreme Court ruled President Hassan Sheikh Mohamud unlawfully extended a term it says expired in May, declared his dismissal of the chief justice "null and void," and ordered elections within 90 days. [8] [9] Former PM Hassan Ali Khaire said troops were deployed to the court; AFP could not verify this. [9] The president has called national talks for 14-18 November. [8]

Assessment: Rival claims over the judiciary and a ruling that the head of state is out of mandate raise the risk of confrontation between security forces in Mogadishu.

NIGERIA: Court voids Atiku's ADC candidacy

A Federal High Court judge dissolved the ADC leadership, voided Atiku Abubakar's presidential ticket and removed all ADC candidates two months before the 16 January election. [10] The ADC called it "another desperate attempt to cripple the opposition" and will appeal; the APC denied involvement. [11]

Assessment: If upheld, the ruling would leave Tinubu's main challenger without a ballot line and fuel claims of lawfare.

SUDAN / ETHIOPIA: Each closes the other's border consulate

Ethiopia closed Sudan's consulate in Assosa and Sudan closed Ethiopia's in Gedaref, amid Sudanese claims that the RSF launches drones from Ethiopian territory. [12] Critical Threats records 21 sets of RSF strikes on fuel and power sites since 22 October and reports unverified Ethiopia-Eritrea clashes. [13]

Assessment: The Sudan war is turning into an interstate dispute across the Horn.

DRC: Army retakes Mahanga and Kilongo; Kinshasa says the FRN "will not reach Kinshasa"

Government and allied forces retook two Masisi villages the FRN had held for months. [14] Spokesman Patrick Muyaya called the conflict "a Rwandan aggression." [15]

Assessment: Further fighting is more likely in the short term than renewed talks.

DRC: WHO adds two Bundibugyo vaccines to the Ituri trial

Oxford/Serum Institute and Moderna vaccines designed for the Bundibugyo strain will join the Bunia ring-vaccination trial. WHO counts more than 10,500 confirmed cases and 5,126 deaths, lower than the 5,300+ cited Thursday. [16]

Assessment: The vaccines are a significant step, but case counts are unlikely to fall soon.

BURKINA FASO / MALI: Goïta and Traoré meet in Ouagadougou

Gen. Assimi Goïta arrived for one-on-one talks with Capt. Ibrahim Traoré on counter-terrorism and AES cooperation; no agreements were reported. [17]

Assessment: The visit is mainly a show of AES unity under JNIM pressure.

Collection gap: No Lissu sentence, Chadema reaction or internet-status reporting by 1100Z. No in-window JNIM, Libya or Sudan frontline reporting. No Somali government response to the troop claims.

// CENTCOM

ISRAEL: Eisenkot recommended by 67 MKs; Herzog to assign the mandate on Sunday

Consultations ended with factions totalling 67 MKs, including the Joint List and Ra'am, recommending Gadi Eisenkot and 46 recommending Netanyahu; UTJ recommended no one. [18] [19] Herzog said the results "appear clear" but cited "mutual vetoes between the blocs and within the blocs themselves," and will decide on Sunday 8 November. [19] [20] Joint List MK Ahmad Tibi said the party would back a minority government from outside but would not be a "safety net." Netanyahu continues to point to possible vote tampering; the Central Election Committee says integrity was not compromised. [19]

Assessment: Eisenkot is very likely to receive the first mandate, but his 67 include Arab parties he has ruled out as partners, so they are not a working coalition.

ISRAEL: Report that Liberman dropped his veto on Haredi parties; party denies it

N12 reported that Avigdor Liberman has dropped his opposition to governing with Haredi parties, opening talks with UTJ. Yisrael Beytenu said: "We are not aware of any such thing. Nothing has changed." [21] An Eisenkot bloc plus UTJ would still hold only 55 seats. [21]

Assessment: If confirmed, UTJ is the most plausible route to a Jewish-majority Eisenkot coalition; treat the report as unconfirmed.

UNITED STATES / IRAN: Trump says a decision is coming "soon"; no order issued

Trump met his national security team on 4 and 5 November and said: "Now we will make a decision... I would rather not destroy the rest of the country if possible, but maybe I'll have to. You'll know soon enough." [22] [23] Fox, citing Axios, reported CENTCOM is finalising preparations but "has not received a new directive," is "tightening" the blockade of Iranian ports, and that the USS Theodore Roosevelt strike group will not reach the region until mid-November. [24] No US strike was reported in the window.

Assessment: The carrier's timing points to a later start for any full resumption of combat, though not a guaranteed one.

IRAN / QATAR: Tehran sends a nuclear proposal but sets seven preconditions

A senior Iranian official told Reuters that Tehran sent the US a nuclear proposal via Qatar, to be discussed only after Washington meets seven demands including sanctions relief, release of frozen assets and war reparations. A US official said Washington is "reviewing" it. [25] Rezaei said: "As long as they do not execute our seven conditions, we will neither open the Strait of Hormuz nor have negotiations." [22] Omani and Iranian foreign ministers spoke again on 5 November. [26]

Assessment: Iran's preconditions run opposite to Washington's sequencing, so a quick breakthrough is unlikely.

IRAN / RUSSIA: Rezaei delivers a Khamenei letter to Putin

SNSC secretary Mohsen Rezaei met Putin in Moscow and delivered a written message from Mojtaba Khamenei. Rezaei said Putin "reiterated readiness" to help end the war and that they discussed post-war regional security and a gas pipeline; no Kremlin readout was found. [27]

Assessment: Tehran is signalling outside backing, but the only account of Russian commitments comes from the Iranian side.

HORMUZ: Iran claims three more tankers hit mines

The Iranian army said three more tankers struck mines and caught fire in "unsafe waters east of the Strait of Hormuz" on 5 November. [28] [26] None has been independently identified, and the tanker hit north of Qatar on 4 November also remains unidentified. [28]

Assessment: Iran is likely using mine claims to enforce its "authorised routes" regime; the claimed count is unverified.

ENERGY: Brent rebounds towards $100

Brent closed Wednesday down 8.7% at $94.62 and was near $99.94 early on 6 November, with WTI at $91.72. [29] [30] The National puts the weekly loss at about 12% (15% in its own summary). [30]

Assessment: Traders are pricing a possible strike decision; an announcement would likely push Brent above $100.

SAUDI ARABIA / YEMEN: Houthis claim Dammam airport strike; coalition reports intercept near Madinah

Houthi spokesman Yahya Saree claimed a drone strike on King Fahd International Airport in Dammam; Saudi authorities did not comment. Coalition spokesman Turki al-Maliki said a ballistic missile aimed at the Madinah region was destroyed, which Saree called false. [31] [26] CTP reports Saudi air support helped government forces retake ground in al-Maqatirah. [32] No Saudi response to the reported $51 billion demand was found.

Assessment: The Houthis are escalating against Gulf aviation targets while Riyadh stays silent on their terms.

GAZA: Five killed; post-ceasefire toll passes 1,600

AFP and hospital sources said Israeli fire killed five people, including a 12-year-old boy east of al-Bureij. The health ministry toll since the ceasefire now exceeds 1,600. [33]

Assessment: Low-level lethal violence continues at a steady rate.

UNITED STATES: Massie to reintroduce Hegseth impeachment

Rep. Thomas Massie will reintroduce eight impeachment articles against Defense Secretary Hegseth in the lame-duck session unless he resigns; Hegseth called it a "sham." [34] [35] Trump said Hegseth is "doing a great job." [36]

Assessment: Hegseth's position looks secure with Trump for now, though a forced House vote is possible.

PAKISTAN / AFGHANISTAN: Army says it foiled a TTP infiltration in Kurram

Pakistani security sources said troops blocked a TTP infiltration in Kurram's Shaluzan sector and returned "unprovoked fire" from Afghan Taliban posts. [37] No casualty figures or Afghan account were found.

Assessment: Border clashes are recurring every few days; the claims are one-sided.

Collection gap: No new Lebanon, Syria, Jordan or Central Asia items. No CENTCOM press release or UKMTO advisory. CTP reports Iraq's PM sidelined Coordination Framework leaders from militia disarmament talks, without primary confirmation. Reuters, AP and Axios pages were not opened directly.

// EUCOM

UKRAINE: 227 drones overnight; emergency outages in Kyiv and four regions

The Air Force said 196 of 227 drones were downed or suppressed, with impacts at 14 locations. [38] Ukrenergo introduced emergency outages in Kyiv city and the Kyiv, Zhytomyr, Chernihiv and Cherkasy regions. [39] The deputy energy minister said seven regions lost power, worst around the capital. [40]

Assessment: Russia is concentrating on the central grid as winter approaches and days before the Abu Dhabi talks.

UKRAINE: Komyshuvakha toll rises to 53

The regional administration reported 53 dead, up from 42. [41] UNN says Russia struck at least nine times with guided bombs, including a FAB-3000, on an underground aid site. [42]

Assessment: The toll may rise further as searches continue.

RUSSIA: Afipsky refinery reportedly hit; Russia says it downed 142 drones

Russia's Defence Ministry said it downed 142 drones; Krasnodar authorities reported a fire at an "enterprise" in Afipsky that footage identifies as the refinery. [43] [40] The hit has not been officially confirmed. [43] ISW also recorded Ukrainian strikes on Ryazan and Oryol. [44]

Assessment: Ukraine is sustaining its refinery campaign ahead of the talks.

UKRAINE: 188 engagements; ISW reports Ukrainian gain near Orikhiv

The General Staff reported 188 engagements, with Pokrovsk again busiest. [45] ISW assesses Ukrainian forces cleared most of Mala Tokmachka southeast of Orikhiv. [44]

Assessment: Fighting is stable at high tempo, with a local Ukrainian gain in Zaporizhzhia.

UNITED STATES / RUSSIA: Trump meets Putin envoy Dmitriev

At a White House event on the Oleshky ceasefire hosted by Melania Trump, Trump said he met Kirill Dmitriev but "can't tell you what I discussed." [46] A pro-war blogger who questioned the evacuation numbers has vanished from public view; ISW says he was reportedly arrested. [47] [44]

Assessment: Moscow is likely using the humanitarian track to build a direct channel to the White House before Abu Dhabi.

FRANCE: 575,000 marchers by official count, 1.6 million per CGT; 448 arrests

The Interior Ministry counted 575,000 marchers nationally; the CGT claimed nearly 1.6 million. The ministry reported 448 arrests and 53 officers injured, with tension in Paris, Lyon, Rennes and Toulouse. [48] Reuters reported tear gas in Lyon. [49]

Assessment: Official turnout was at the low end of forecasts but large enough for unions to plan further action.

EUROPE: Hoax bomb threats disrupt about 30 flights; Baltic cable saboteurs jailed

Threats hit flights linked to at least 14 countries, with fighter escorts in Bulgaria and Italy; an email claimed responsibility for the Russian far-right group "Male State," which is unverified. [50] A Helsinki court jailed the Russian captain of the Fitburg for Baltic cable sabotage. [51] The Kremlin called claims it hacked supermarket freezers "absurd." [52]

Assessment: The incidents fit a pattern of low-cost disruption across European infrastructure, with attribution unresolved.

TURKEY: Parliament ratifies the Mecca defence treaty with Saudi Arabia and Pakistan

The assembly approved the treaty 279 to 119; it commits members to "immediate assistance" if one is attacked. [53]

Assessment: A NATO member taking on a separate Gulf defence obligation raises questions of overlapping commitments.

MOLDOVA: Travel ban for Transnistria leader after Putin honours him

Chisinau plans to bar Vadim Krasnoselsky from leaving the country for five years after Putin gave him the Order of Honor. [54]

Assessment: The ban adds friction as Transnistria depends on winter gas arrangements.

Collection gap: French primary outlets did not load, so final strike figures are secondary. Nothing new in-window for Georgia or Serbia. No reporting on Abu Dhabi delegations.

// INDOPACOM

TAIWAN / SOUTH KOREA / JAPAN: Record market falls after the US midterms

Taiwan's Taiex fell a record 3,737.67 points within minutes of the 6 November open, and TSMC hit its daily limit down; CNA blamed Wall Street losses and AI-policy uncertainty after the Democratic sweep. [55] South Korea's Kospi fell more than 8% after the open, triggering a 20-minute halt, and closed down 6.02%. [56] The Nikkei fell about 7% early after the Philadelphia Semiconductor Index dropped 12.2% on Thursday. [57]

Assessment: This is a market shock rather than a security event, but it adds domestic political pressure in Seoul and Taipei.

INDONESIA: Wiretap case details emerge as the Prabowo-Jokowi alliance strains

The Jakarta Post reports former police chief Listyo Sigit Prabowo and two generals allegedly entered numbers into the police interception system without warrants and deleted the log in October. [58] The arrest of a Jokowi-linked official has put the 2024 Prabowo-Jokowi alliance "under growing strain," and Minister Yusril suggested the surveillance may have aimed to "incapacitate" the president. [59] No new troop movements or protests were reported in the window.

Assessment: The case is turning into an elite power struggle between the Prabowo and Jokowi camps, a risk to political stability.

CHINA / JAPAN: Beijing calls Tokyo's defence plans a threat; Takaichi recommits to Trump

PRC MFA spokesperson Guo Jiakun said Japan's planned security-document revision and defence increase "seriously threaten regional peace and stability," and called the US midterms "a domestic affair." [60] Pre-window onset. Reuters had reported Tokyo weighing 70 to 80 trillion yen over five years. [61] PM Takaichi called the alliance "a very important pillar" and said she wants to keep working with Trump. [62]

Assessment: China-Japan friction is likely to rise through December, when the documents are revised.

CHINA / JAPAN: Beijing blocks SoftBank's $5.4 billion ABB Robotics purchase

ABB said China's foreign investment security review body blocked SoftBank's acquisition of its robotics unit. [63] The MFA declined to comment. [60]

Assessment: Beijing is likely using investment review as economic pressure on Japan ahead of the 10 November rare-earth deadline.

NORTH KOREA: No new launch; statements against FATF and Japan

KCNA carried a Foreign Ministry statement rejecting FATF's decision to keep the DPRK on its high-risk list. [64] A separate KCNA article called Japan "a war criminal state" over its defence budget. [65] No new launch or loudspeaker activation was reported.

Assessment: This is routine rhetoric with no escalation on the loudspeakers so far.

SOUTH KOREA: Basic plan approved for a nuclear-powered submarine

A DAPA committee approved the basic plan for domestically built nuclear-propelled, conventionally armed attack submarines, with the project starting in 2027 and a first launch in the mid-2030s; Yonhap says Seoul has US consent to use uranium enriched below 20%. [66]

Assessment: This is a significant step toward a US-backed ROK nuclear-propulsion capability and is likely to draw North Korean and Chinese criticism.

CHINA / HONG KONG: Beijing backs the Wong sentence

The MFA said Joshua Wong pleaded guilty and urged "relevant parties" to "stop interfering in Hong Kong's judicial affairs." [60] Taiwan's Presidential Office and Mainland Affairs Council condemned the sentence. [67]

Assessment: The case is likely to surface around APEC in Shenzhen.

BANGLADESH: New garment protests in Ashulia

Workers in Ashulia blocked a highway demanding a wage figure; police used tear gas and more than 100 factories suspended operations. [68] The wage board agreed new pay would start in December but set no amount. [69] An outlet citing industrial police says most Gazipur factories reopened. [70]

Assessment: Unrest is easing in some zones, but flare-ups around Ashulia are likely until a figure is announced.

MYANMAR / CHINA: Beijing eases trade at gates held by armed groups

China reopened select border gates in Kachin and northern Shan states to most non-military goods, lifting fuel curbs for MNDAA areas but keeping them for UWSA and KIA areas. [71]

Assessment: Beijing is still using differentiated border access to reward or pressure individual armed groups.

Collection gap: No Taiwan MND count for 5-6 November could be verified. No MOFCOM statement on the rare-earth suspension. Nothing new found for the Philippines, the Senkakus, India, Australia or the Pacific islands. Japan Times, SCMP and Tempo did not load.

// NORTHCOM

UNITED STATES (MISSISSIPPI): Colom's lead grows to about 1,800 as both sides send lawyers

Democrat Scott Colom's lead over Sen. Cindy Hyde-Smith grew from 43 votes to between 1,138 and about 1,800, depending on the source and time. [72] [73] [74] Hyde-Smith's lawyers asked every county to preserve affidavit ballots for a possible "election contest, or a Senate proceeding"; Colom's lawyers called the request "unlawful." [73] [74] Estimates of uncounted ballots range from 15,000 to 20,000, and the Secretary of State says the total is unknown. [74] [75] Voters have until 10 November to cure affidavit ballots. [72]

Assessment: A formal contest over affidavit ballots looks likely whatever the final margin.

UNITED STATES (ALASKA): Trump demands the second Sullivan's votes go to the senator

Trump said votes for independent Daniel J. Sullivan "should be immediately given to the REAL Dan Sullivan" and "There is no other fair solution!" Peltola's campaign denies recruiting him. [76] Peltola still leads by 637; ranked-choice tabulation is on 18 November. [77] [78]

Assessment: The demand has no basis in Alaska law but raises the chance of a ballot-design challenge and stolen-seat claims.

UNITED STATES: 25 House seats uncalled; CBS projects 256 Democratic seats

ABC Australia, citing AP, gave Democrats 253 seats and Republicans 157 with 25 uncalled. [77] CBS projects Democrats on pace for 256 seats and called more Republican incumbents defeated, including Mike Turner and Richard Hudson. [79]

Assessment: A majority above 250 lets Democrats legislate and investigate without relying on moderates, though not override vetoes.

UNITED STATES: Trump backs Hegseth as Democrats plan oversight

Trump said Hegseth is "doing a great job"; Democrats plan House investigations into the Iran war, the strikes on suspected drug boats and senior-officer firings. [36] Schumer said the new majority will not let Trump put a "right-winger" on the Supreme Court. [80]

Assessment: The drug-boat strikes in SOUTHCOM and Iran war decisions are likely early subpoena targets.

UNITED STATES: Oval Office made a national monument; judge pauses Trump's arch

Trump's first post-election proclamation designated the Oval Office and Cabinet Room a national monument. [81] A judge then blocked construction of his 250-foot arch near Arlington for 14 days. [82] No domestic security incident was reported in the window.

Assessment: These are largely symbolic legacy moves.

CANADA: Budget projects C$62.3 billion deficit and new defence money

The budget adds C$142.1 billion in measures over five years with a C$62.3 billion deficit. [83] Finance Canada says Canada is "on track to spend 4% of GDP on defence this decade." [84] Canadian Press reports core defence spending reaches only 2.6% of GDP by 2030. [85] The budget barely mentions US tariffs, and the Liberal majority means it is not at risk. [86]

Assessment: The path to NATO's 3.5% core target after 2030 is not yet funded.

CANADA: Carney says Washington dropped culture and third-country demands

Carney said US negotiators are "asking less, and they're offering more, but we're not quite there," with autos the main obstacle; he expects to meet Trump at APEC. [87] LeBlanc said the midterms "won't significantly affect" Ottawa's approach. [88]

Assessment: The next real test is a possible Carney-Trump meeting at APEC.

MEXICO: Federal forces kill US-sanctioned cartel leader near Mexico City

Edgar Aarón "N," "El General," founder of the Cártel Nuevo Imperio and sanctioned by US Treasury in 2025, was killed in a firefight with federal forces in Naucalpan. [89] A narco-banner in Culiacán threatened performers at the upcoming Palenque fair. [90]

Assessment: The killing gives Sheinbaum a security result to show Washington; reprisals are possible.

MEXICO: Sheinbaum says ICE raids "very likely" cost Republicans; Navy seizes cocaine

Sheinbaum said immigration raids "very likely" affected the midterms and confirmed she will meet Xi Jinping at APEC. [91] The Navy seized about 1,149 kg of suspected cocaine off Chiapas and Oaxaca. [92]

Assessment: Her meeting with Xi is likely to irritate Washington ahead of USMCA talks.

ATLANTIC: Bermuda low odds fall

NHC lowered formation chances to 20% over 48 hours and 30% over seven days, with gales likely over the central subtropical Atlantic. [93]

Assessment: Low threat to land; the concern is marine gales.

Collection gap: No AP House tally page could be opened directly. No confirmed domestic security incident. Nothing for the Bahamas.

// SOUTHCOM

CUBA: US sanctions oil-shipping network and Chinese military suppliers

The State Department sanctioned eight companies and two people, blocked five tankers and designated China's CEIEC and Beijing H&C Technologies for supplying Cuba's armed forces. [94] [95] Rubio said Cuba's elite hoards the island's energy resources. [94] China's foreign ministry said Beijing would take "todas las medidas necesarias." [96]

Assessment: Blocking the tankers will tighten fuel imports and likely deepen blackouts.

COLOMBIA: ELN admits holding an Army officer seized in Arauca

The ELN's eastern front released a video claiming the kidnapping of 2nd Lt. María Camila Pantoja in Saravena and warned that "any rescue attempt could endanger her life." [97] President De la Espriella demanded her unconditional release. [98]

Assessment: This is the first clear ELN retaliation-style act since Esparta and the Apure strike.

COLOMBIA / HONDURAS: Navy seizes 104 weapons on a boat from Honduras

The Navy, with the DEA, intercepted a boat north of La Guajira carrying 104 firearms and 15,542 rounds reportedly bound for the Conquistadores de la Sierra Nevada. [99]

Assessment: The seizure points to a Central America-Caribbean arms route to Colombian groups.

VENEZUELA: InSight Crime puts the Apure toll at 19 or more

InSight Crime says the strike killed "at least 19" people at what looked like a drug-processing site, against 23 reported Thursday; neither Caracas nor Washington has commented. [100] Analysts expect the new Congress to scrutinise US-Venezuela oil deals. [101]

Assessment: The toll and extent of US involvement remain unconfirmed.

HAITI: Technicians still missing; Bukele says El Salvador pays 90%

Bukele says El Salvador pays about 90% of a deployment that has grown past 2,000 troops; four Salvadoran technicians remain missing. [102] Analysts warn gains may not last without state institutions. [103]

Assessment: The hostage case will likely decide whether the operation escalates or winds down.

CENTRAL AMERICA: Pacific low not yet a depression; heavy rain expected

NHC lowered the odds to 40% over seven days but still warns of heavy rain through the weekend. [104] El Salvador's MARN declared Friday to Sunday days of "especial vigilancia." [105]

Assessment: Flooding and landslides in eastern El Salvador, Honduras and Nicaragua are the main hazard through 9 November.

ECUADOR: More than 1,200 curfew detentions; Los Lobos raids

Officials report more than 1,200 detained in five days of curfew. [106] Police arrested 14 alleged Los Lobos members linked to at least 60 homicides. [107]

Assessment: The real test is whether coastal violence stays down after the curfew ends on 10 November.

PERU: Red rain alert for Tumbes and Piura; Lima record

Senamhi issued a red alert for the north coast, and Lima recorded its wettest day since 1970. [108]

Assessment: Early El Niño rains are likely to stretch emergency response.

BRAZIL: Lula says Flávio Bolsonaro "will have to come back"

Lula said Flávio Bolsonaro went to the US "pra pegar proteção" and will have to return to face his cases. [109] Senate staff will review the request to annul his remote vote. [110]

Assessment: His presence in the US is a growing irritant in US-Brazil relations.

Collection gap: No in-window Cuban grid figures. No official Venezuelan or US statement on Apure. No damage reports from Central American rains.
